NO on Prop. 32!

Stop Proposition 32 - Special Exemptions Act - the GOP's attempt to silence California's workers

Proposition 32 was put on the California ballot by Orange County right-wing activists, anti-union billionaires like the Koch Brothers and corporate SuperPACs. Proposition 32 would trick the voters into silencing the voices of working people in California on all state and local issues.

At its core, Proposition 32, the Special Exemptions Act, is about worker payroll deduction versus corporate profits.

This act would restrict union members from volunteering to make contributions to political candidates or issues that affect the middle class through a payroll deduction. Proposition 32 says that if money comes into the union via payroll deduction to programs such as DRIVE, it cannot be used for any political purposes – no direct contributions, no independent expenditures, no political parties, no ballot measures and no communications by the unions with their own members.

So, if Proposition 32 passes, the corporations will continue to donate millions of dollars and our labor movement would be prohibited from spending money to fight these corporations. We will have no money to fight "Right-to-Work" initiatives and we will be unable to stop attempts to eliminate workers' rights and protections.

If Proposition 32 passes, it will virtually eliminate all political activity to fight corporations in California.

We can't let this happen. Start educating your coworkers, family and friends now.
